This romantic-looking manor house dating back to 1730 makes connoisseurs of Mallorca rave about, because here are many criteria that seem impossible elsewhere: On almost 31.5 hectares of land cavorting with sheep with the typical for Mallorca bells, goats, chickens and ducks. Horse lovers will find a true training paradise with several riding tracks, horse boxes, paddocks and grazing areas. In addition to the four-legged residents, there are all kinds of agricultural land: In addition to the numerous citrus fruits and organic areas for herbs, salads and vegetables for their own use, there is a private olive cultivation with nearly 1,000 trees. "Predio Son Font" is the own protected designation of origin of the outstanding, virgin olive oil. Water is sufficiently available due to the two own wells. The mansion itself consists of various residential units, a romantic patio with a fountain and its own, typical Mallorca chapel. If you prefer a truly stately residence instead of the various generous living units, you can reopen the closed passageways with relatively simple means.
